Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ's) for AAA teams

How do you select your teams?

There are three ways we select players for our teams.

1. Game Evaluations-Junior Bruins coaches will go to games throughout the fall and winter to evaluate players. They generally only get to see EHF games.
2. Evaluations/tryouts - In 2004 we had our first "open" evaluation session in December and selected players from there as well as our game evaluations. There are so many leagues (EHF, MBHL, Selects, etc.) that we are no longer able to get to the rinks and see every team play and there are too many good players that we miss. Another reason for our evaluations is that we may only see a team play once and a player could have missed that game, been sick or had an off day. The evaluations allow players we have never seen as well as players we may have seen to get a second or third evaluation. The Evaluations also allow us to get a look at out of state players who wish to be considered for our team. Our evaluations are not like most tryout formats where players are notified if they are selected or "cut".

After our evaluations, we will do one of the following:

- a) Offer a player a spot on our team.
- b) Let a player know that we will put his team on our scouting schedule because we liked what we saw but need to continue to see him play more.
- c) In some cases players will be notified that there will not be a spot for them with us this season. Our 2006 tryouts are scheduled for late December (check out our WEB SITE CALENDAR for exact dates and times).

FAQ's cont'd.....

3. Recommendations - We will also (particularly for players that live out of our area that we will never be able to see and cannot make tryouts) take recommendations. We will do our due diligence and need several references to ensure the player is at the level we want.

When will your rosters be finalized?

The process of selecting players and finalizing team rosters takes 5-6 months. The process usually starts in November and continues into the late winter. Last season our teams were not fully selected till March. The same should be expected this year. We will start to select players through December and then will hold open evaluation sessions. We will select players from tryouts and continue to evaluate players in games through January, February and March.

How many tournaments do you go to?

The number of tournaments an age group goes to varies. Most teams will go to three tournaments (usually a tournament in Toronto, Montreal and one locally). Some age groups will do more depending on the schedule and interest level.

How many players do you bring to each tournament?

This varies on the age and period length of games at that tournament. At the younger ages (U-12) we will normally carry 8 forwards, 5 defensemen and 2 goalies. There are tournaments when the period lengths are 15 or 17 minutes and if that is the case we will bring 9 forwards, 6 defensemen and 2 goalies. At the older ages (12 and older) we will carry 9 forwards, 6 defensemen and 2 goalies. At the oldest age levels (16-20 year olds) we may carry 4 lines depending on the tournament. At some tournaments (Jr. Chowder Cup, Prospects at the 14 and older levels we may bring 10 forwards).

How do you manage playing time?

We feel that every player we invite is a good one and deserves to play. For the most part we "roll the lines" and try to give each player an equal amount of ice time. However, the last five-seven minutes of a game and overtime are "coaches time" and he has the latitude to "shorten" the bench and play those he feels gives the team the best chance to win. There are also situations where we have a particularly tough team to play and we will get some key players some extra ice time. The same can be said for the play-off rounds in that the bench may be shortened earlier than a round robin game.

Goalies usually split time during the round robin portion of a tournament (either splitting time in each game or alternating games). During playoff rounds the coaches have the latitude to play the goalie that he feels gives the team the best chance to win and only one goalie may play in the semi final and championship games.

Where/when can we see the schedule for the season and for each tournament?

Once we decide on our schedule for the season it is posted on our WEB SITE CALENDAR. Most tournaments post their schedule 10-14 days prior to the tournament start date. Once it is posted on the tournament web site, we will put it on our calendar.

Who will be the coach?

We try and have either Chris or Peter Masters at each tournament. This is not always the case due to scheduling but it is our intention. One of them is usually at 80% of the tournament weekends. When Chris or Peter is not coaching we have many qualified coaches that we hire. Others that we hire have been college coaches, junior coaches (from the Junior Bruins and other programs), NHL scouts and Junior Bruins midget coaches. We have also had current college players and pro players helping as well as current Junior Bruins players for our younger age levels. We rarely, if ever, have a parent coaching a team. If we are short and have a parent coaching it is only someone we feel is competent, qualified and will do a good job. We have had a couple of parents help us in the past and they have been great!
